- b. Student who withdrawal after add/drop will not receive a refund.

What happens to my Financial Aid if I withdrawal?

- a. Students who withdraw and have received federal financial aid (Title IV programs) will be required to repay, to the federal program, the amount of unearned financial aid funds disbursed to them as of their withdrawal date. Title IV programs includes Pell Grants and Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (FSEOG). The unearned amount of federal programs funds is calculated based on the percentage of the semester completed before the date of withdrawal.
- b. Both Lively Technical College and the student receiving federal financial aid are required to return unearned financial aid to the federal government. Lively Technical College is required to return the unearned portion of the Title IV funds it received from withdrawing students which were used to pay institutional charges such as tuition, fees, and other educationally-related expenses assessed by the institution. Students will owe the college the amount returned to the federal government for institutional charges. Students must repay the unearned Title IV funds to any Title IV loan program
- c. These are new federal requirements for Title IV financial aid programs and students should consider their repayment responsibilities for these programs as part of any withdrawal decision.
